

DO YOU HAVE AN ITCHY DOG?!

We are recruiting dogs for a clinical trial evaluating a new treatment for canine atopic dermatitis. Common symptoms of canine atopic dermatitis include frequent itching, red and patchy skin, and recurrent ear and skin infections.

Benefits/Compensation

- If your dog is eligible, you will be given a total of $500 in Amazon gift cards at the end of the study!!
- All study procedures will be free of charge

General Study Information

- Your dog will be evaluated by a board-certified dermatologist approximately 7 times in 8-weeks.
- At the first visit, your dog will receive a one-time injection of either the investigational product or a placebo. You will not know which treatment your dog receives.
- You will monitor and record any abnormal observations in a diary during the study.
- You will also complete electronic assessments of your dog's skin.

Dogs We Are Looking For

- Itchy skin!
- Free of fleas
- Is on a stable diet at least 4 weeks prior to screening and NO changes during the study
- Has not ever received Cytopoint
- Does not have an active skin or ear infection
- Is healthy and can partake in a study for up to 7 visits in an 8-week period

If you feel your dog may qualify, please contact Dr. Trimmer's dermatology team.

Phone: 702-243-1885

a subsidiary of Elanco Animal Health, Inc.